Looking Back on a Wonderful Year.

This week in Nursery, we have been celebrating all the wonderful memories we've made over the past year. Using our seasonal tree as a prompt, the children reflected on the fun and exciting things they've experienced in each term. We passed Jigsaw Jenie around the circle and encouraged the children to share their favourite memories from the year - there were lots of smiles and laughter as they remembered special activities, friendships, and milestones. We also talked about how it's okay to feel a little sad about moving on, but how the memories we've made will stay with us and remind us of the fun we had together.

Little Green Fingers.

The children have loved watching their vegetables grow from tiny seeds into real, edible plants. They've worked so hard caring for them - watering them daily, spotting the first little shoots, and learning what plants need to thrive. This week, the big moment finally arrived: harvest time! Digging up the soil to discover what had been growing underneath was full of excitement and surprises. While our peas were a bit shy this year, we're all very proud of the beautiful carrots, potatoes, and spring onions we've grown together.

Let's Celebrate Their Way!

Next week, we're handing the reins over to the children as we celebrate their final days in Nursery with a week of their choice! We asked the children what toys and activities they'd most like to enjoy, and they were very excited to share their ideas. From favourite construction sets to role-play toys and messy play, we'll be bringing out all the things they love most for one last fun-filled week together. It's a special way to let them lead the play and make more happy memories before they move on to their next adventure.

Garden Party.

We look forward to welcoming grown-ups to our summer garden party - weather permitting! Please could we ask for only one grown-up per child to keep the event safe and manageable. With lots of thanks.

Afternoon Nursery 2 - 3pm

Library Book Hunt!

Time for a little weekend treasure hunt!
Could you have a peek behind the sofa,
under the bed, or on your bookshelf to see if any of our Nursery library books are hiding at home? If you spot one, we'd love to welcome it back next week. Thank you for helping our book family stay together!

Dates for Diary.

Wednesday 16th July - Nursery
Garden Party.

Thursday 17th July - Nursery last Day.

Have a lovely weekend, everyone!
